
H. W. KENNEDY DIES OF HEART FAILURE FEB. 9

H. W. Kennedy died of heart failure Friday while at work on his section at Fleeta, he was section foreman for ten years in California, for the Southern Pacific. Before that he had worked on the Union Pacific since he was fifteen years of age. Services and interment were at Lancaster last Monday.

H. W. Kennedy was 56 years of age, born at Newton, Kansas. He was the beloved husband of Mrs. H. W. Kennedy. There were eleven children born, of whom eight are still living to mourn his loss. John Kennedy and family, of Riverdale, Willard Kennedy and family, of Independence, Kans., Charley Kennedy and family of Ravenna, Mrs. W. Shreffer and family of Glendale, Mrs. C. Foster and family of Cartago, Mrs. R. Miller and family of Olancha, T. Kennedy of Lone Pine, Franklyn Kennedy of Fleeta, and a brother, Wesley Kennedy, of Oakland.
